

WOMEN OF NAVY LEAGUE HERE ARE THANKED; HINT FOR FUTURE WORK

Appreciation of the work of Navy League Women here in securing and forwarding knitted outfits was received in Tuesday's mail by Mrs. William L. Whitney from Lucia Burnett (Mrs. S. M.) Ballou, vice-chairman and treasurer of the committee, women's branch.

The letter is as follows: "Washington, D. C., May 30, 1917. "Mrs. William Whitney, "Honolulu, Hawaii.

"My dear Mrs. Whitney: "I read with much interest your letter saying that the Honolulu women have commenced knitting. I am answering it quickly to beg your enthusiasm for the small boats of the navy, particularly the destroyers. This is an immediate need. We have already distributed many hundreds of outfits. It will interest you and the Navy League women to know that we had outfits on all of our destroyers which are now in British waters, and are constantly being requested from the navy department for destroyers and submarines. Please encourage the women to knit as fast as they can for these small boats.

"I will send you some new editions of our circular which bear the signature of the secretary himself; also, we have a letter from him thanking us for these garments and stating that all small ships which have gone to Europe have been outfitted. I see Honolulu women, with their usual enthusiasm, are busy about all that kind of work. Washington is most exciting these days, and I consider it shows your patriotism that you continue without the immediate excitement which we have.

"Aloha. With best regards, "Sincerely yours, "LUCIA BURNETT BALLOU, "Vice-Chairman and Treasurer."

ANTHRAX TABU ON MOILILI IS LIFTED BY ARMY

Military guards over the anthrax quarantined section of land in Moilili were removed today by the local army authorities upon receipt of a letter from the board of agriculture and forestry saying that the patrol could now be handled suitably by men from that board and the board of health.

That the civilian authorities are deeply appreciative of the work of the army in patrolling the district is evident from the letter, which thanks the military for the guard.

All but one platoon of the battalion stationed over the district was sent home yesterday afternoon, the final group returning to Fort Shafter today.

Charles S. Judd, executive officer of the board, stated at noon that word was brought today from Maui that the two cases which were reported to him yesterday were of a steer and a horse. There are now four distinct cases on the island of Maui, Judd says.

As a result of the new outbreak there Dr. Victor A. Norgaard did not return today from the island, but will remain to fight the spread of the disease. He has released for 2000 more doses of vaccine.

Arthur H. Rice, president of the board, said today that plans are not entirely complete for transferring the T. F. Ferns herd to the district selected between Palolo and Maunaloa valleys, but it is thought that all details will be arranged and that the cattle will probably be moved next Wednesday.

On Monday Kirk B. Porter, acting president of the board of health, plans to begin disinfecting portions of the dairy ground with the gas blowtorch which he has secured.

ARMY & NAVY

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORT SHAFTER, June 20.—The commanding officer of Company E, 2d Infantry, has made the following changes in his company: Sgt. West was reduced and Cpl. Arthur C. Cavanaugh was made sergeant in his place, and the place vacated by Cpl. Cavanaugh was filled by Pvt. 1st Cl. Walter L. Decker, who is now a corporal. Pvt. 1st Cl. Oscar A. Burman has also been promoted to corporal to fill the vacancy caused by the reduction of Cpl. Long.

Capt. Charles A. Lewis, who has been quite ill at the Department Hospital, is very much better. Capt. Lewis and a number of his men were brought in from camp suffering with ptomaine poisoning.

The board of managers of the Officers' Club held its monthly meeting on Wednesday evening, the 19th inst., at Headquarters building, Fort Shafter. There were present Col. William Weigel, the president; 1st Lieut. Edward P. Wittell, secretary and treasurer, and Capt. Claire B. Bennett, Maj. Guy G. Palmer, Capt. Elmer F. Rice and Capt. Edwin S. Hartschorn, the board of managers. It was agreed to receive the officers of the Reserve Corps, attached to the 2d Infantry, as associate members of the club. Some improvements were suggested, the financial statement was presented by the secretary showing a comfortable surplus over and above expenses of the club. Capt. Elmer F. Rice was appointed to audit the accounts, and then there being no further business the meeting adjourned, to meet again at the call of the president next month.

Instruction practice of the 1st Battalion, Maj. Guy G. Palmer, commanding, was completed on Tuesday and record practice begun this morning. The battalion made a remarkable showing both in excellence of marksmanship and in time consumed in instruction practice, having been on the range only seven days. The prospects for qualifying the majority of the men in the battalion are particularly bright. Maj. Guy G. Palmer is in charge of the firing line.

It will be of interest to many at the post to know that Capt. Hornsby Evans of the 2d Infantry, who has been in the states a sick leave, has been ordered to report to Col. Edward Burn, the president of the retiring board at the Presidio of San Francisco, Cal., for examination to determine his fitness for retirement.

Pvt. John C. Adams has been transferred to Company C, 3d Regiment of Engineers at Fort Shafter, from Troop M, 4th Cavalry, at Schofield.

ARMY ENVELOPES BEAR LIBERTY LOAN SLOGAN

"Your Patriotic Duty—Buy a Liberty Bond." Through orders received from Washington this slogan must be printed in red ink on every official envelope that goes from local army headquarters.

Rubber stamps carrying the words have been provided for each office at headquarters and yesterday for the first time the stamping was put into use. The orders, which were only recently received here, bear the date of May 15. As the big loan campaign expired on June 15, last Friday, it would seem that the slogan is being used a little behind time in Hawaii.

However, orders are orders and the stamped envelopes will continue in use until revoked by the government.

MOBILE LAND GUNS TO FIRE OUT AT SEA

For the first time in the history of the Hawaiian department, mobile land guns against targets at sea will be given trial next Monday morning at Naeahuli, this island.

Guns of 4.7 caliber from the 9th Field Artillery at Schofield, are to be brought down to the seashore for the unique practice. Targets will be at sea approximately 10,000 yards from the guns and some 200 rounds will be fired. Probably more than half a dozen will be used in the firing.

These guns are all from the regiment of mobile artillery, which has been built up largely in the last year at Schofield.

PROVOST AND POLICE NAB SEVERAL SOLDIERS

D. Ikae at the corner of King street and Deane lane with a demijohn of wine, and Charles Russell and Charles E. Whitcomb, Co. E, 25th Infantry, arrested by Policemen M. D. Barboza on a charge of riding around in a taxi when drunk and refusing to pay the fare and attempting to cut the driver with a knife when he started to the police station with them. ## BIG SCHEME FOR BUSINESS CENTER IS SUBMITTED

Brewer estates, Castle & Cooke and Bishop & Co. on the right or owa of Bishop street.

The largest of the crayon drawings shows the buildings in just such an arrangement and from such a perspective. The birdseye drawing, next in size, shows the whole scheme from aloft. The six smaller crayon drawings, taken in order and reading from left to right as they hang upon the wall, depict the following combinations:

Castle & Cooke and the Hawaiian Electric; M. McInerney and the First National Bank; Theo. H. Davies; Bishop & Co.; the Hawaiian Electric and Charles Brewer Estate; the Hawaiian Electric appearing in two of these.

The proposed site of the McInerney building, a three-story structure, is on the makai-waikiki corner of Fort and Bishop streets, directly opposite the Young hotel, the First National Bank building is next to it on the mauka-waikiki corner of Bishop and Merchant street and extending to Queen street. Across Bishop street and on the owa side between Queen and Merchant streets comes the Bishop Co. site and across Merchant street on the mauka-ewa corner of Bishop and Merchant streets is Castle & Cooke's. Next to Castle & Cooke and on the makai-ewa corner of King and Bishop streets is the Hawaiian Electric and the Charles Brewer estate.

The pictures were viewed this morning by officials, directors and so forth of companies interested, meeting over at Castle & Cooke's to see the plans for the first time. Architect Mullgard presented the drawings and made a very terse explanation and statement. He said:

"The seven business buildings illustrated by accompanying preliminary designs constitute the nucleus of the proposed new modern commercial center in Honolulu.

"Their architectural character will be in sympathy with the surrounding landscape, climatic conditions, customs and practical needs.

"Individual character of each structure is achieved without loss of unity. "Foundations, columns, floors and roofs are to be of reinforced concrete. "Exterior walls between concrete columns are to be of hollow tile faced with enameled terra cotta in soft tones. "Partitions are to be of hollow tile. "Roofs to be of asphaltum with a cement covering.

"Basements to be omitted except where necessary. Storage spaces and for other purposes are obtainable on upper floors with greater convenience at lower cost than in basements. "First floor windows and doors to set flush with outside faces of walls where required. Glass enclosures to set back where required. Arcades and promenades to be established where required and of widths to be determined. Arcades to be omitted where necessity demands, glass being substituted.

"Awnings constitute important elements in the designs, both as essentials and decorative features. Electric lights suspended within openings convert awnings into transparencies at night. "Exterior illuminations will also provide for festive nights. Lamps are controllable in units and collectively. Lights within arcades will also illuminate interiors after closing hours.

"Public walks do not require lamp posts at curb lines. "Walks between structures provide natural ventilation, natural light and direct accessibility to entrances of structures. They preserve parity of values between parts not facing streets with parts facing streets.

"Public staircases and elevators will be approached by walks between structures, street frontages are thereby preserved for commercial purposes.
